It will be welcome news to dyspeptics to learn of a remedy that, in the opinion of thousands, is an absolute cure for indigestion and all forms of stomach trouble, and, better still, it is guaranteed to do so. The remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

We all know the value of pure pepsin in indigestion, and add to this some exceptional laxative ingredients and you have a truly wonderful remedy. Mr. T. W. Worthy of Forsythe, Ga., got to the point where he could not even eat or digest vegetables and after many years of seeking he found the cure in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mr. Rudy Kassner of Moline, Ill., was in the same bad predicament with his stomach, took Syrup Pepsin and is now cured.

Hundreds of others would gladly testify.

It is a guaranteed cure for indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, gas on the stomach and similar complaints. A bottle can be had at any drug store for fifty cents or a dollar, but if you wish to make a test of it first, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will supply a free sample bottle, sent direct to your address. You will soon admit that you have found something to replace salts, cathartics, breath perfumes and other temporary reliefs. Syrup Pepsin will cure you permanently.

A Widow and a Railroad

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

The D. and S. railroad had decided to eliminate a ten mile curve on its line by a cross cut of half the distance. The curve had been made to reach a boom town which had later been fire swept and then abandoned. The Widow Carter, relict of a farmer, lived on the line of the rejected cut-off. It must run between two lakes on her farm, and the isthmus was only seventy feet wide.

There was not a doubt on the part of the railroad people that the widow would sell the right of way for $100 or so. One day a company lawyer paid her a call. He was a man of fifty, about the widow's age, and the two had not talked ten minutes before it developed that they used to go to school together as children. When it came to speaking of the right of way the lawyer treated it as a trifling matter. All other landowners on the line had granted it for nothing, but in Mrs. Carter's case they would pay $100 if she would bind herself to keep quiet about it.

"I won't say either yes or no today," she replied. "There's something I want to remember about our school days—some incident of importance that you were connected with. I guess I can think it up tonight, and you can come back tomorrow."

The lawyer departed, thinking the widow a bit odd in her ways, and he was back in due time next day.

"Look here, Sam Davis," said Mrs. Carter as they were seated. "I was pretty sure there was some incident, and it has come to me. You know there was a hill back of the school-house at Wharton?"

"Yes."

"And we used to slide down on sleds and boards at recess and after school?"

"So we did."

"One noon you asked me to ride on your sled. Halfway down the hill it upset, and I lost a big cud of gum I was chewing."

The lawyer laughed and slapped his leg, but the widow had a very serious face as she went on:

"And so your old railroad has got to pay me a thousand dollars for the right of way. I'm going to get even for that lost gum."

"A hundred dollars is a big price, widow. It's land that you make no use of."

"But I may decide to make use of it. No; the railroad can have it for a thousand dollars, but not a cent less."

"It can condemn the land under the law, you understand, and in that case it would get it for $10."

"Well, let 'em go ahead."

The railroad company didn't care to go ahead until it had exhausted other means. It would raise its figures, and it would send other lawyers to her. Meanwhile the widow consulted a lawyer in the village. He was a one horse lawyer, but he was posted on the thing she wanted most to know. In certain states a railroad cannot secure the right of way through a dwelling house by condemnation proceedings. If the owner asks an exorbitant figure the value is to be set by three adjacent landowners. This law applied in the widow's case, or soon would. She at once ordered lumber to build a shanty on that isthmus, and within a week she was living in it.

The railroad sent on another lawyer, who offered $200 for the right of way. Mrs. Carter was firm. Then another lawyer and $400. Mrs. Carter was firmer.

Railroads often seize by force what they covet and then fight it out in court. The idea was to do it in this case. Mrs. Carter borrowed every shotgun for a mile around and was ready for battle. She actually fired a charge of bird shot that entered the legs of three trespassers and sent them howling. Then the railroad people got a minister from the village to go down and talk with the widow. He saved his breath, even if he didn't earn his money. The moment she understood his errand she said:

"Now, parson, you don't want to butt into this. Your business is to preach of goodness and heaven and angels. Mine is to beat the railroad. You go right back home and leave me to run things here."

Then the railroad offered $500. "Just half my figure!" was the woman's reply.

Then they called for a commission of three to view and value. They were three farmers and were good friends of Mrs. Carter. They put the value at $2,000. One of their reasons was that the passing of trains would make the fish in the two lakes very nervous. Another was that the whistles of the locomotives would prevent the widow from hearing her clock strike and might set her roosters to crowing an hour ahead of time.

When the award was made known the railroad company wanted to settle for $1,500.

"I don't want but a thousand," said the widow. "That has been my finger right along. However, I want Sam Andrews to bring the money and tell me he's mighty sorry about that gum, and if it was to do over again he'd help me to find the end if it took all day."

And Lawyer Andrews appeared and laid down the yellow backs and made the handsomest kind of an apology, and a month later the railroad was using the short cut and the engines were tooting at Mrs. Carter's as she stood in her door.

English Walnuts for America.

The secretary of agriculture declares that the beautiful forest tree that bears the English walnut would do well in this country. It spreads like an oak and has a fine feathery foliage that fills the air with fragrance.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch. Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin. Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.
